The Specialized Technical Committee brings together ministers of finance, monetary affairs, economic planning and integration.

Overall orientation

15.1 The overall objective of the programme is to promote inclusive and sustainable economic and social development in support of accelerating Africa's structural transformation, in line with the priorities and vision articulated in the African Union's Agenda 2063, the New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD) programme and the internationally agreed development goals, including those contained in the United Nations development agenda beyond 2015 (as and when approved by the General Assembly) and the outcomes of other major United Nations conferences and international agreements concluded since 1992.

15.2 The mandate for the programme derives from Economic and Social Council resolution 671 A (XXV), by which the Council established the Economic Commission for Africa (ECA). This mandate has been further elaborated in a number of resolutions of the General Assembly and the Economic and Social Council, as well as the Commission itself. Further mandates have emanated from the African Union and the outcomes and decisions of major global conferences and summits, including the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development in 2012 and resolution 67/226 on the quadrennial comprehensive policy review of operational activities for development of the United Nations system. The decisions adopted at the forty-sixth session of the Commission, held in Abidjan in March 2013, and the twentieth ordinary session of the African Union Assembly of Heads of State and Government, held in Addis Ababa in January 2013, formed the basis for the present biennial programme plan. In March 2013, the ECA Conference of African Ministers of Finance, Planning and Economic Development adopted resolution 908 (XLVI), in which it endorsed a new strategic vision and orientation for the Commission, including an objective, new programme priorities and an organizational structure.

15.3 Many African economies have been growing steadily over the past decade, making remarkable progress in advancing economic and social development, including progress towards meeting some of the Millennium Development Goal targets by 2015. The growth momentum continued in 2013, with the growth in gross domestic product averaging 5 per cent, which is well above the world average, making the continent one of the fastest-growing regions of the world.

15.4 The current economic growth of Africa is not all positive. It is generally not accompanied by much-needed structural transformation and diversification and often does not translate into equitable human development and improved livelihoods for the majority of the people. Countries across Africa are becoming richer, but whole sections of society are being left behind. After a decade of buoyant growth, nearly 50 per cent of Africans still live in poverty. Wealth disparities are increasingly visible. The current pattern and quality of growth is unsustainable and could undermine the continent's chances of achieving transformation and sustainable development, as it leaves too many people in poverty, too many children hungry and too many young people without jobs. Unequal access to health, education, water, sanitation and other infrastructure is reinforcing wider inequality. Smallholder agriculture has not been part of the growth surge, leaving rural populations trapped in poverty and vulnerability. The deep, persistent and enduring inequalities in evidence across Africa have economic, social and political consequences. They weaken the bonds of trust and solidarity that hold societies together. Over the long run, they will undermine economic growth, productivity and the development of markets. They weaken confidence in Governments and institutions and create conditions for open conflict and social unrest, as the recent experience of some African countries has shown.

15.5 The central message is that economic growth alone is not enough. It must be accompanied by deliberate and proactive policies to reduce inequality and promote inclusion. Therefore, sustaining these positive trends and achieving inclusive growth and development is the overriding development policy challenge that African countries must address as an urgent priority. In order to realize this objective, several related challenges and constraints also need to be addressed, including achieving higher, sustained and equitable growth; investing in human development, including education, health, infrastructure and employment creation; boosting agriculture and food security; speeding up the pace of regional integration; promoting trade, including intra-African trade; and enhancing state and institutional capacity for improved economic management. Ensuring gender equality and building national statistical capacity should also remain top priorities. Resource mobilization is a critical cross-cutting challenge that must be addressed if Africa is to make progress in those areas. Sustaining the positive trends will also depend critically on a favourable international environment that supports the special needs of Africa, particularly with respect to climate change, international trade and enhancement of the continent's voice in key global decision-making forums and processes.

15.6 As a result of its recent restructuring, ECA has repositioned itself to respond to these developmental challenges. Consistent with its mandate and comparative advantage, the Commission's overall strategy for achieving the objectives of the programme will continue to centre on the nine interdependent and complementary subprogrammes approved by the General Assembly in its resolution 68/246 as part of the restructuring of ECA. The new strategic direction is aimed at retooling ECA to deploy its comparative advantages in support of Africa's efforts to overcome existing and emerging development challenges with a view to achieving inclusive and transformative development. Key features of the new programme orientation include the reorganization of the subprogrammes along thematic lines, which broadly reflect Africa's development priorities, and the realignment and clustering together of related activities both within and across subprogrammes to ensure the coherence of and complementarities in the programme.

15.7 The reorganization resulted in a reduction in the number of subprogrammes and a more strategic focus. The nine subprogrammes are focused on thematic or sectoral priorities that are key to the transformation of Africa, as follows: Macroeconomic policy; Regional integration and trade; Innovations, technologies and management of Africa's natural resources; Statistics; Capacity development; Gender and women in development; Subregional activities for development; Development planning and administration; and Social development policy. Special efforts have been made to ensure that the gender mainstreaming strategy of the Commission is reflected throughout the nine subprogrammes of the biennial programme plan.

15.8 While many of the priorities contained in the biennial programme plan for the period 2016-2017 reflect continuity in the direction of the work carried out by ECA in 2014-2015, a number of enhancements and refinements will be made to the programme in 2016-2017 to address important emerging issues in support of Africa's transformation. A key new feature of the present plan, therefore, is the implementation of the priorities of Agenda 2063 and the international development agenda beyond 2015 (as and when approved by the General Assembly).

15.9 The modalities for implementation will include a combination of policy research to generate knowledge, advocacy and consensus-building, and advisory services and technical cooperation. ECA will deliver those services through economic and social analyses and preparation of reports to monitor and track the progress of Africa on global and regional commitments; the formulation of policy recommendations, guidelines and standards to support policy dialogue; the organization of policy dialogue to facilitate consensus-building and the adoption of common regional positions on key issues; and the provision of technical assistance and capacity-building in the form of advisory services and training to disseminate best practices. The Commission will continue to ensure the high quality and impact of its outputs by strengthening its quality assurance processes.

15.10 Strategic partnerships will continue to be central to the implementation of the programme. In line with its new partnership strategy, ECA will leverage its comparative strengths to engage a wide range of partners from within and outside the United Nations system in order to maximize the impact of its work. To this end, the Commission will continue to be involved in the work of the Executive Committee on Economic and Social Affairs as the main vehicle for ensuring policy and operational coherence in United Nations development activities, as well as enhancing collaboration with United Nations Development Group entities. ECA will also continue to build on its existing partnerships with the African Union, the African Development Bank and other regional organizations, as well as with African civil society and private sector organizations. Inter-agency coordination and collaboration among United Nations agencies working in Africa will continue to be strengthened through the regional consultation mechanism of the agencies convened by ECA in support of the African Union and its NEPAD programme at the regional and subregional levels. In addition, it will work closely with other regional commissions to develop joint initiatives and inputs with a view to strengthening the regional dimension in global development. At the national level, ECA will work closely with the United Nations resident coordinator system to exploit the inherent strengths of the funds and programmes. Partnerships with other stakeholders, including the private sector, civil society, universities and research institutions, will be developed and enhanced.

15.11 As part of its continuing efforts to enhance organizational and development effectiveness and impact, ECA has put in place a programme accountability framework, with accountability for the delivery of results assigned to the various subprogrammes, as well as establishing a new evaluation policy. Both are under implementation and have been designed to review progress and achievement in a results-based environment, which is now fully institutionalized in ECA programming and evaluation processes. In this regard, the logical frameworks under each subprogramme have been reviewed and refined to make the indicators of achievement more measurable and to reflect the new strategic orientation of the Commission.

Research will be geared towards supporting African countries in formulating and implementing policies and programmes for the efficient allocation of resources for production, investment and distribution with a view to accelerating inclusive economic growth.

15.15 The subprogramme will also focus on economic forecasting of key economic indicators of member States to support their planning efforts. The Division will develop forecasting models that will be disseminated through such knowledge products as the Economic Report on Africa, high-level conferences and policy seminars and regional and international economic modelling and forecasting networks, such as Project LINK, hosted by Department of Economic and Social Affairs of the Secretariat. The forecasting models will also be used in the preparation of country and subregional profiles.

15.16 The strategy will ensure that Africa's progress towards good economic governance is sustained to support its developmental agenda, including promoting policies and programmes for enhancing efficient and participatory public sector management. In this regard, the strategy will focus on research and capacity-building on measures for promoting good economic governance in Africa. A major priority area will be strengthening state capacity for development planning and management. In addition, the subprogramme will focus on strengthening capacity for the public sector, including measures for improving public financial management, budgetary and public investment policies at the national and local levels and the implementation of results-based management practices in the public policy cycle.

Strategy

15.24 The responsibility for implementing the subprogramme lies with the African Centre for Statistics. Given the interdisciplinary nature of statistics, the Centre will work in close collaboration with all other ECA divisions and offices, particularly the data centres in the subregional offices.

15.25 By scaling up the use of modern technology, the subprogramme will strive to increase the statistical capacity of African countries to collect and use quality, comparable and harmonized statistics to: (a) monitor progress towards the implementation of national, regional and international development goals; and (b) support regional integration, including the harmonization of methods for censuses, surveys, economic classifications and development indicators in line with international methodologies.

15.26 In the first instance, the subprogramme will provide adequate support to African countries in their efforts to improve their statistical operations, including conducting censuses and surveys and making the data and information products available to users promptly. Special attention will be given to the efficient use of administrative data, which are necessary for producing gender statistics, evidence-based service delivery procedures and monitoring of progress towards the achievement of internationally agreed development goals.

15.27 The subprogramme will continue to play a leading role in the implementation of the Reference Regional Strategic Framework for Statistical Capacity-building in Africa and in the provision of support to countries in the design and implementation of their national strategies for the development of statistics. It will also continue its role in the implementation of the African Charter on Statistics and the strategy for the harmonization of statistics in Africa, which emphasize the need for comparable statistics for regional integration. Improved quality and comparable statistical data will be collected continuously to populate the ECA statistical database. To do this, the Centre will work with national statistical offices to implement modern data-collection practices using modern communications technology tools and methodologies to facilitate data capture.

15.28 The strategy will include: (a) methodological work, including the production of handbooks and guidelines; (b) the implementation of field projects; (c) advocacy campaigns to address institutional issues and the design of national strategies for the development of statistics; (d) the dissemination of information and best practices; and (e) the provision of technical assistance. Particular emphasis will be placed on developing manuals for producing harmonized statistics and supporting the statistical working groups dealing with issues of: (a) the harmonization of price statistics; (b) national accounts statistics; (c) trade and public finances; (d) data development in pilot countries; (e) the maintenance of databases; (f) advocacy; (g) gender mainstreaming; and (h) institution-building. The subprogramme will coordinate with United Nations organizations such as the Statistics Division of the Department of Economic and Social Affairs, the African Union Commission, the African Development Bank and other relevant international organizations. It will promote statistical harmonization and collaboration through the meetings of the Statistical Commission for Africa.

Subprogramme 5 Capacity development

Strategy

15.29 The responsibility for implementing the subprogramme lies with the Capacity Development Division. As a contribution towards structural transformation in Africa, the strategy will focus on translating ECA research and analytical work into operational activities for capacity development to maximize the impact of ECA interventions. In this regard, the subprogramme will provide policy advisory services to national, subregional and regional institutions and assist them in the formulation of strategies, programmes and projects.

15.30 The subprogramme will be geared towards strengthening the capacity of the African Union and its organs, including the NEPAD Planning and Coordinating Agency, the secretariat of the African Peer Review Mechanism and the regional economic communities in deepening and advancing the African Union's agenda of continental integration within the context of Agenda 2063. The strategy will also focus on strengthening the capacity of African countries and their development organizations in formulating and implementing appropriate policies and programmes for achieving the African development goals and the internationally agreed development goals beyond 2015 (as and when approved by the General Assembly).

15.31 The subprogramme will also provide direct technical support to the NEPAD priority areas, the African Peer Review Mechanism process and its secretariat and participating countries in order to foster African ownership and leadership of the African development agenda. In addition, the subprogramme will scale up its assistance to member States in the implementation of the African Peer Review Mechanism, particularly in building and maintaining a credible database on relevant information as well as supporting the governance architecture of the African Union.

15.32 Inter-agency coordination and collaboration among United Nations agencies working in Africa will be coordinated through the regional coordination mechanism of United Nations agencies in support of the Ten-Year Capacity-Building Programme for the African Union beyond 2016 and the African Union's strategic plans and priorities, including its NEPAD programme, at the regional and subregional levels. In addition, the subprogramme will take the lead in coordinating and convening the annual meetings of the regional coordination mechanism for Africa of United Nations agencies working in Africa.

15.33 The subprogramme will provide technical assistance and other capacity-development support in response to specific requests from member States, regional economic communities and other intergovernmental organizations, upon request, to enhance technical, human and institutional capacity at the country, subregional and regional levels. Capacity development in the period 2016-2017 will be focused on the following key strategic priorities: macroeconomic analysis, industrialization, development planning and natural resources management.

Strategy

15.38 Component 1 of subprogramme 7 will be implemented by the subregional office for North Africa, which covers the following seven member States: Algeria, Egypt, Libya, Mauritania, Morocco, Sudan and Tunisia. The strategy applied under the subprogramme will focus on internationally and regionally agreed development goals, including the post-2015 development goals (as and when approved by the General Assembly), as well as the outcome of the United Nations Conference on Sustainable Development. In addition, the subprogramme will focus on boosting intra-African cooperation and trade.

15.39 The subprogramme will strengthen the capacity of countries to formulate strategies and policies to promote innovative approaches to ensure structural transformation. Consequently, the Institute will work in close coordination with other ECA divisions and subregional offices and centres, considering the importance of capacity development in its various dimensions in the region as a guiding, articulating principle. The subprogramme will coordinate with the African Centre for Gender to include a gender perspective in its work.

15.59 In the context of the revival of development planning and in view of the stated objectives of most African countries of taking advantage of contemporary economic growth to achieve within a generation emerging market and/or middle-income status along with the requisite social policy frameworks for redressing poverty and inequality, the work of the Institute assumes a new level of importance and relevance.

15.60 The strategy to be followed will take into account the emerging demands of member States and in particular the priorities of the African Union, as reflected in its Agenda 2063. The activities to be implemented by the Institute will include comprehensive training and technical cooperation services for Governments and other relevant stakeholders, applied research and the development of knowledge networks among stakeholders, particularly those relating to public sector performance in the region. It will expand its global partnerships, including through collaboration with African universities and think tanks, with a view to enhancing its capacity to deliver decentralized courses across Africa. Furthermore, online and e-learning opportunities will be provided to officials of member States in order to enhance programme scale, reach, presence and impact, as well as to promote a culture of continuous learning and retooling. Opportunities for tailor-made capacity-renewal and enhancement interventions will be explored, and efforts will be made to build interfaces between public sector managers and leaders and relevant actors from the private sector and civil society.

and redistribution and their linkages to economic and social development to support member States in integrating population movements and migration into their national development plans and strategies.
