DESCRIPTION

More effective States and more efficient markets

Jointly hosted by UNCTAD and Trade Mark East Africa (TMEA)

The side event will highlight the benefits of mainstreaming Trade Facilitation (TF) into national development plans, with a special focus on regional dimensions. The panel will discuss the significance of trade facilitation to integration, competitiveness, and development. The panel will also analyze trade facilitation measures in the regional context; for many specific trade facilitation reforms, collaboration and cooperation among regional partners is possible or even necessary. Such collaboration and cooperation itself can provide an additional impetus to further regional integration.
